The MOKIVIA story

Little hands. A world of possibilities.

Where imagination begins

In a child's world, the sun can be blue, a cardboard box can become a castle, and a little clay can hold an entire forest. These wonderfully unexpected ideas are how children explore the world. MOKIVIA celebrates the moment they look up and say, "Look what I made!"

Room to try. Freedom to create.

Color gives expression its voice. A budding idea holds the promise of growth. Curiosity asks what could happen next. Together, these ideas inspire our Chinese name, Cai Ya Qi. We believe creativity needs room to wander: to draw boldly, imagine freely and try again, with shared laughter along the way.

From a spark of an idea to something real

MOKIVIA brings product development, creative design and rapid sampling together. Across drawing tools, craft materials and playful kits, we develop themes, color palettes, packaging and assortments. Ideas become reviewable designs and tangible samples, refined through the details for the ways they will be used.

Make room for imagination. Give every "Can I try?" a place to begin.

From concept to sample

A clear brief makes product development more efficient.

01

Define the brief

Confirm product references, market, channel, quantity and desired style.

02

Develop the design

Prepare a reviewable proposal for brand artwork, packaging theme and assortment.

03

Review the sample

Review appearance, materials, contents, packaging and relevant test documentation.

04

Confirm the terms

Agree MOQ, sample and design fees, lead times and production acceptance criteria.

Ordering notes

Age suitability, material performance, certifications, dimensions and supply terms are confirmed per item. Illustrations do not imply stocked branded goods; shown quantities may be representative.
